“ I met Boyd when we were 16 and both worked at the Eagle Drug Store. I worked in the Fountain and Boyd work as a stocker and Pharmacy Delivery boy. We had some great times having shaving cream fights in the basement/store room and delivering Prescriptions to folks. During the great snow of 1967, we were out and got thoroughly stuck and had to call my brother to come and pull us out so we could finish the deliveries. Boyd has been a dear and trusted friend for the 55 years since then. He shared his beautiful wife and family with me through the years and Sandy was witness to some of our craziest moments. He will be missed, but never forgotten. Love and prayers of comfort to his family.

“ Lugwrench (Dad),
There are no words that could be spoken, of how your presence, and your wisdom, and your laughter are missed by all.
I miss you very, very much

Your eldest son,
Lugnut (Brandon)
